OF THIRD-PARTY DEFENDANTS THE BLAND AND BROWN JUDGMENT
CREDITORS WITH RESPECT TO SUPPLEMENTAL PHASE TWO ASSETS

CITIBANK, N.A.,

Third-Party Plaintiff,

-against-

JAMES OWENS, et al.,

Third-Party Defendants.

Defendant and Third-Party Plaintiff Citibank, N.A. (“Citibank”), by its undersigned attorneys, Davis Wright Tremaine LLP, hereby submits its answer to the Counterclaims asserted by Third-Party Defendants the Bland and Brown Judgment Creditors on December 19, 2012 and alleges as follows:

Paragraphs 1 through 65 pertain to the Bland and Brown Judgment Creditors’ answer to Citibank’s Supplemental Third-Party Complaint and therefore do not require a response.

ANSWER TO COUNTERCLAIMS AGAINST CITIBANK

knowledge and information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations therein.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

95. Without assuming the burden of proof or the burden of persuasion on any matters where the burden rests on the Bland Judgment Creditors and Brown Judgment Creditors as counterclaim plaintiffs, Citibank asserts the following affirmative and other defenses with respect to the counterclaims.

96. Citibank incorporates its responses to Counterclaim Paragraphs 66 through 94 as though fully set forth herein.

FOR ITS FIRST AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

97. Persons other than the Islamic Republic of Iran or its agencies or instrumentalities may have ownership or other interests in part or all of the assets that are the subject of this third-party proceeding (“Supplemental Phase 2 Blocked Assets”) which may be superior to the rights of the Bland Judgment Creditors and Brown Judgment Creditors to enforce their judgment against the Supplemental Phase 2 Blocked Assets.

FOR ITS SECOND AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

98. The Supplemental Phase 2 Blocked Assets may be subject to competing claims by other holders of final judgments against the Islamic Republic of Iran or its agencies and instrumentalities, or plaintiffs in other actions with claims against them who have served Liens of Lis Pendens or other notices of restraint or attachment, including but not limited to judgment holders or plaintiffs in other actions against Iran who have already served writs of execution and/or restraining orders on Citibank prior to this action and/or have served an answer to the third-party petition served on them in this action. In accordance with the Court’s August 16,

2012 Order, Citibank has interpled such parties into this action so that the Court can determine the respective rights of all interested parties, if any, to the Supplemental Phase 2 Blocked Assets.

FOR ITS THIRD AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

99. The Supplemental Phase 2 Blocked Assets sought by the Bland Judgment Creditors and Brown Judgment Creditors include wire transfers that were routed through Citibank as an intermediary bank but that could not be completed because they were blocked pursuant to an Executive Order or regulations administered by OFAC. Citibank simply blocks any property or accounts that it is directed to block by such Executive Orders or regulations. Because under New York law, wire funds in the temporary possession of Citibank as an intermediary bank are not the property of the originator, the ordering bank or the beneficiary, they are not subject to attachment and turn over. See The Shipping Corp. of India Ltd. v. Jaldhi Overseas Pte Ltd., 585 F.3d 58 (2d Cir. 2009), cert denied, 130 S. Ct. 1896 (2010); Calderon-Cardona v. JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., 867 F. Supp.2d (S.D.N.Y. 2011) (on appeal to the Second Circuit as Docket Number 12-1264). Notwithstanding the above, Citibank acknowledges the Court's holding on this issue with respect to Phase 1 Assets in its Opinion and Order of January 20, 2011 (as amended March 4, 2011) and in the Corrected Order entering final judgment with respect to Phase 1 Assets, dated July 11, 2011.

FOR ITS FOURTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

100. To the extent the Bland Judgment Creditors and Brown Judgment Creditors seek assets in this action that are located outside the United States and/or not being used for a commercial activity in the United States, such assets are immune from attachment and execution in New York under the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act ("FSIA"), 28 U.S.C. § 1610(a) which authorizes execution against property of a foreign state under certain circumstances which is located “in the United States.”

FOR ITS FIFTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

101. To the extent that the Bland Judgment Creditors and Brown Judgment Creditors seek to enforce their rights under TRIA § 201 or Section 1605(a) of the FSIA, the Bland Judgment Creditors and Brown Judgment Creditors must establish all of the elements necessary to obtain relief under those statutes to establish a judgment against the Judgment Debtors.

FOR ITS SIXTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

102. The Bland Judgment Creditors’ and Brown Judgment Creditors’ counterclaims are barred to the extent that they are asserted against assets not before this Court, namely the assets currently before Judge Katherine B. Forrest, in the proceeding captioned Deborah D. Peterson, et al. v. Islamic Republic of Iran, et al., 10 Civ. 4518 (S.D.N.Y.).

WHEREFORE, Citibank respectfully requests the entry of judgment:

- (1) determining its rights and the rights of the Bland Judgment Creditors and Brown Judgment Creditors and of all other third-party defendants in the Supplemental Phase 2 Blocked Assets;
- (2) determining that the service made by Citibank of the third-party complaint, the third-party summons and other relevant documents on the Bland Judgment Creditors and Brown Judgment Creditors, and the service of same by the interpled Judgment Creditors on Iran, constitutes good and sufficient service under CPLR §5239, the FSIA, and any other applicable provision of law;
- (3) determining that this Court has subject matter jurisdiction and in personam and/or in rem jurisdiction over the Bland Judgment Creditors and Brown Judgment Creditors or the Supplemental Phase 2 Blocked Assets sufficient to determine the parties' rights with respect to such assets;

(4) determining whether and to what extent each of the Supplemental Phase 2 Blocked Assets is subject to execution to satisfy the Bland Judgment Creditors and Brown Judgment Creditor's judgment;

(5) discharging Citibank from any and all liability to the Bland Judgment Creditors and Brown Judgment Creditors, and any other persons who may have claims to, or an interest in, any Supplemental Phase 2 Blocked Assets that are turned over to the Bland Judgment Creditors and/or Brown Judgment Creditors or any other third-party defendant to satisfy the Bland Judgment Creditors' and/or Brown Judgment Creditors' judgment or any other judgment against Iran, including but not limited to any and all parties in this action, or any of their agents or instrumentalities, in accordance with CPLR §§ 5209 and 6204 as well as in interpleader pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 22;

(6) restraining and enjoining all parties to this action, or any of their agents or instrumentalities from instituting or prosecuting any claim or action against Citibank in any jurisdiction, arising from or relating to any claim to the Supplemental Phase 2 Blocked Assets;

(7) awarding to Citibank its costs and expenses in this proceeding, including reasonable attorneys' fees; and

(8) awarding to Citibank such other and further relief as may be just and proper.
